Ross A. Mikulskis

Bits of CS (my computer science textbook)

Hello! My name is Ross, I am a senior at Boston University studying computer science. I'm in my final year of the BA/MS, so I will be completing my master's along with my bachelor's in May of 2025.

I love operating systems, my favorite things to use are Emacs and C. I also dabble in cloud engineering (e.g. Kubernetes, CI/CD). I will be applying to PhD programs this fall and hope to become Dr. Ross in the near future!

Outside of computer science, I play the trumpet in the New Jazz Orchestra around Cambridge, MA. I also have been a big brother in the Boston Big Brothers Big Sisters program for the past year. I have a dog named Winnie (picture above), and I'm a proud brother of Phi Kappa Tau.
